

Entrance Cards

- Similar to an exit card but you give it to students before starting the lesson to determine their prior knowledge. On an index card or half sheet of paper, students answer a small number of questions covering the learning targets for the next lesson. For example, if you are going to be teaching students the 5 paragraph essay, you might want to see how much your students already know.

What are the parts of the 5 paragraph essay and what purpose do they serve:

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.
